

Freedom Service Dogs, Inc. (FSD)

Adoption Application

FSD occasionally releases dogs from the program and makes them available for adoption. Most of these dogs have failed their health or soundness evaluations or do not have a temperament suitable for a service dog. These dogs are new in the program and have little or no training. Rarely, a dog retired from service becomes available. If we approve your application, we will keep it on file and contact you if a dog becomes available.

Freedom Service Dogs requests an adoption donation to help recover a portion of the medical and evaluation expense incurred with each dog. This minimum donation will vary with each dog based on their level of training.

All adoptees are current on distemper combo, rabies, and kennel cough vaccinations, are neutered, and ID microchipped. Most dogs have been examined for hereditary eye disease and many have had radiographs of hips, shoulders, and elbows.

Any donation beyond the minimum suggestion will be greatly appreciated.
